

crossing bridges to cottage country!

*Spanning rivers and streams
down cottage country
laneways*

By Marliese Gause • • • Photography by Cody Storm Cooper

A summer's day drive through the country, taking the winding sideroads instead of the highway will take curious travellers over any number of bridges big and small. Many of them, like the Centre Road bridge in McKellar provide a lovely vantage point for the perfect holiday picture, a place to stop and enjoy the view or simply spend an afternoon with a fishing rod.

